ONE MISSING GIRL MYSTERY NIPPED IN BUD

Rose Normandin of Manchester, aged 17, who disappeared from her home there last Thursday, was located here by the police on Monday and sent back to her people. Rose, an attractive young miss, gave no reason for going away. Her cousin, Diana Dupuis, left home at the same time, but returned voluntarily.

HALLOWELL-BARTLETT

The marriage of Allie Hollowell and Miss Laura Bartlett, both of So. Windham, Me., took place at City Hall yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed by City Clerk Guy E. Corey. The groom gave his occupation as a laborer.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERRED

Much Property Has Changed Hands About the City Recently

Included among the recent real estate transfers recorded in the office of the board of assessors at city hall is that of three dwelling houses of the old colonial type and 20,000 feet of adjacent land in the Charles H. Rollins estate on Court street. The land is transferred by the estate of Mr. Rollins, who was a prominent citizen to William Manning Rollins, one of his descendants.

John Tilton has transferred to Bertram M. Tilton, the three story brick building on Ladd street, at the rear of Tilton Brothers confectionery store, which fronts on Market street. Horace Whalley has sold to James W. McMullin, a dwelling house and a lot of land 12x17 feet situated in Dennett street.

Joseph P. Lamb has added to his extensive real estate holdings on Curtis avenue by the purchase of three lots of land embracing 15,000 feet. The land is situated near the plant of the Colonial Paper company, and is sold by John Edward Pickering and others.

Caroline Hodgdon has sold her dwelling house and about 5000 feet of land in Burket street to Albert J. Henrick of Keene.

William McCallin, an ice dealer, buys from Sarah Gardner thirty-two acres of land in Peverly Hill road.

Alfred Elwyn has sold to Grace Heiser 50x100 feet of land in Elwyn avenue on which the Heisers will build, and J. Howard Grover has sold a house and 5000 feet of land on Sherburne avenue to Lee and Anna L. Binard of Elliot, Me. Another transfer of real estate recorded is the sale by Joseph Pollner to Ethel McDonald of a dwelling house and 6000 feet of land in McDonough street.

Committee on Education Will Be Cordially Received By City Fathers

As before stated by the Herald its arrival and immediately take the Mayor D. W. Badger and the Portsmouth delegation in the legislature to view the property which the city is to give the state.

Following the trip to the farm the delegation will be given a complimentary dinner and then view the navy yard and other points of interest about the city.

The men complained that those who are advanced to a higher grade are compelled to accept the salary of the lower grade from which they graduated. When the members of the executive board left Washington they had the promise of Mr. Stewart for an early reply. They expect he will require some time to consider their grievances and the causes of them.

WAITING OFFICIAL REPLY

Railway Mail Employees Have Presented Their Case To Authorities

Having presented their grievances to the postal department the railway mail clerks of the country now await an official reply. The answer, which is expected to contain either a defense of the system now in vogue in reference to the employ of railway mail clerks or an apology, will be made by Joseph Stewart, the assistant postmaster general, to George A. Wood of this city, who is national secretary of the Railway Mail Association.

Mr. Wood has returned to his office in this city after a visit to Washington with the sixteen members of the national executive board. During their stay in Washington, they had a long conference with Mr. Stewart, and also an informal session with Postmaster General Hitchcock. The meeting with Mr. Stewart, who is regarded to be the authority on the practical side of the service, was organized with the purpose of telling him first hand the grievance of the men.

Mr. Wood said that the principal complaint was that the extra burden of duty imposed upon the men compels them to work a minimum of thirteen hours a day in the cars. They also are compelled to work at least an hour and a half preparing reports and acquainting themselves with new orders, rules and changes in service on their days off.

Another grievance presented concerned the substitution of clerks for fellow employees who are injured while on duty. It is said that oftentimes when a clerk is injured another clerk is substituted for him and neither the clerk that is injured nor the clerk substituting for him is paid for the work. It thus appeared that it was to the advantage of the government to have employees injured.

The third principal grievance is that the men who are raised by seniority do not immediately receive the pay that was given their predecessors.

EASILY PERFECTLY

Sweeping with the broom or old fashioned carpet sweeper is laborious, unsanitary and anything but thorough.

The ELECTRIC VACUUM CLEANER sucks every particle of dirt out of the carpet—it does not raise an atom of dust and doesn't leave an atom to get away from it.

The ELECTRIC VACUUM CLEANER makes carpet sweeping easy and pleasant—and it is the only sanitary, non-dust raising, thorough method of carpet sweeping.

WHAT WE SAY IS SO

A NEW STATE BOWLING RECORD

The Dover bowling team defeated the Portsmouth team on the Elks alleys on Monday evening, and at the same time established a new state record of 1504. It was a grand exhibition of bowling by not only the Dover team but the local, for they rolled 1461 with two of the team falling off considerably from their average. Duffy of Dover undoubtedly created a new individual record with 337. For the local team both Renner and Young rolled great, being over three hundred, and George Woods rolled a fast game but had hard luck in the third string. Both Lambert and Har were off from their usual game, the former being out for 248, otherwise the totals would have a record.

The score:

TWO ARE BADLY BURNED

Sick Woman Also Released From House in Dover, N. H., During the Monday Morning.

Dover, N. H., Feb. 13.—Two persons were badly burned and a sick woman narrowly escaped suffocation at a fire in the house of Alderman Patrick Cassidy, 138 Payne street, this morning. Mrs. Allen Cassidy, mother of Alderman Cassidy, was carried out of the burning building by her grandson, Frank Cassidy, to the home of Bernard O'Connor, across the way. She was uninjured, but would soon have been overcome by smoke had she not been rescued when she was. She suffered a nervous shock.

Frank Cassidy and his brother James were burned about the face and hands in trying to extinguish the blaze, which had started in the cellar around the coal bin. James was so seriously burned that his face was not leave the cellar until driven out by the dense smoke.

The fire started from the accidental ignition of some kerosene that had leaked out of a can on the cellar floor near the coal bin, a match having been dropped into it. The blaze was extinguished by the chemical engine, and the fire damage was slight. The rooms on the first floor were blackened with smoke and damaged considerably.

ARCHBISHOP RYAN FUNERAL PLANS

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Portsmouth Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Portsmouth readers.

Charles F. Oliver, 45 Coffin Alley, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "Standing for hours brought a constant strain on my kidneys and I finally began to have kidney complaint. My back was so lame at times that I could attend to my work and I was also troubled by headaches and spells of dizziness. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and began their use, following the directions closely. The pains in my back and other symptoms of kidney complaint soon left me and I felt much better in every way. The cure has since proven to be a permanent one and I, therefore, advise anyone suffering from disordered kidneys to try Doan's Kidney Pills."

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT Tooth Powder

Used By people of refinement in every part of the world where the use of the toothbrush is known, for Almost Half a Century.

In Philadelphia. Cardinal Gibbons will preside and Archbishops, bishops and priests from all sections of the United States will be present when the divine office for the dead is begun Thursday morning at 9.30 o'clock. The nine lessons of the office will be read by visiting prelates and the responses will be by the assembled clergy.

At 10 o'clock the solemn mass of requiem will be sung by Bishop Pendergast who is now temporarily at the head of the archdiocese of Philadelphia. The music of the mass will be sung by a great choir of priests and seminarians.

Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis will preside at the funeral oration. Archbishop Ryan was at one time head of the see of St. Louis and for many years the closest friendship existed between the two prelates. After the mass the body of the archbishop will be entombed beneath the high altar of the cathedral. Every catholic church in the archdiocese was draped in black today by order of Bishop Pendergast and every day until the funeral, masses will be celebrated. Telegrams from all parts of the country are being received at the cathedral residence.

RAILROAD NOTES

The city councils of Rochester are to take action against the street railway using salt on their tracks in that city. The salt when used in such large quantities as is being used is not good for the feet of horses which have to travel through it. The use of salt on the street railway in many cities has been prohibited because of the injury to horses' feet.

After a trial, which resulted satisfactorily, engine No. 1642 has been installed as the first oil burning engine in Massachusetts. Hereafter she will run regularly between Boston and Provincetown on the N. Y., N. H. and H. railroad and other locomotives are to be similarly equipped for the same run. The purpose of this change is to prevent the setting of forest fires. Engine 1642 carries oil enough to run 325 miles. This is a greater mileage than the coal supply afforded.

The bridge crew are still engaged in making repairs on the Dover Point bridge recently damaged by floating ice from Great Bay.

BIG FUNERAL GIVEN EX-GOV. TUTTLE

Pittsfield, N. H., Feb. 13.—A large delegation of representatives of the official, civil, and industrial life of New Hampshire came here today to attend the funeral of former Governor Hannibal Tuttle, whose death occurred at his home in this town last Friday. Special trains were run to Pittsfield from Manchester and Concord. The services were held at 2 P. M. in the Congregational church and were conducted by Rt. Rev. Edward M. Parker, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New Hampshire.

The active pall bearers were local employees of the former Governor. The honorary pall bearers included business associates of Governor Tuttle in his banking, lumbering, and railroad activities. They were Walter Parker of Manchester; P. H. Brown, Concord; S. J. Winslow, John S. Rand, C. M. Green and J. W. Drew of Pittsfield, and James A. Ricker and Oscar Foster of Boston.

The schools were closed throughout the day, and during the hour of the funeral all business was suspended.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this public manner to express our sincere thanks to all of the good friends who by their kindness lessened the blow of the sudden death of our husband and father the late George A. Law. To the railroad men, the fraternal orders, for their attendance and service at the funeral and for their beautiful floral pieces, and to all who sent flowers we again express our heartfelt thanks.

NAT GOODWIN AGAIN SINGLE

New York, Feb. 13.—"Guess I'm once more a matrimonial runaway, east upon Cupid's bargain counter."

There was a smile on Nat Goodwin's face and a tear in his eye as he said this last night when informed by an American reporter that J. Campbell Thompson, referee in the divorce suit brought by Edna Goodrich, his former wife, has recommended in his report, which will be filed in the county clerk's office today, that Mrs. Goodrich will be granted an unconditional divorce.

The holder of the heavyweight championship seemed somewhat cast down now that he is once more in the position of a man without a wife. But he was "game," and the burden of his cry last night was "I don't care."

Warned that he was stealing the stuff of another well-known actress, he replied:

"Nevertheless, I don't care." Let 'em divorce me, or let 'em not. I don't care. When you've reached my age, my boy, nothing worries you." The rumor that the referee had decided in favor of Miss Goodrich was confirmed by Herman L. Roth, Miss Goodrich's counsel. Mr. Roth said: "It is true that the referee has reported in our favor. His report comes after six weeks of hard legal fighting, during which we were bitterly opposed by Mr. Goodwin. After the filing of the referee's report I shall move before Justice McCall of the supreme court that the recommendation for an absolute divorce be confirmed. I have no doubt that my motion will be granted."

In his decision the referee has upheld every contention we made, including that of jurisdiction. Two correspondents were named by us, but not specifically—that is, their name did not come out in the testimony. The referee reports from findings in our favor."

Mr. Roth said that Miss Goodrich made no request for alimony in her suit.

"You see, Nat Goodwin before his marriage executed to Miss Goodrich a deed of gift of one-half interest in $1,000,000 worth of property, bonds, and California real estate," added Mr. Roth. "On Mr. Goodwin's death all of this fortune goes to Miss Goodrich. So you see, she is well provided for. She is now obtaining an income of approximately $50,000 a year from her half of the $1,000,000 and that is ample for her needs."

Leo R. Brilles, counsel for Goodwin, said last night, that he, too, had received a copy of the referee's report recommending an unfettered divorce for Miss Goodrich.

A SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

Francis S. McCombs the Leader of the Mexican Rebels Spelling for a Fight

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 13.—Francis S. McCombs, leader of a detachment of Mexican insurgents in the battle at Mualto, is the son of James McCombs, a retired farmer who lives near this city, and a relative of A. A. Denny, founder of Seattle.

McCombs, who is 37 years old, has served as a soldier of fortune in many wars. His first military experience was in the late struggle between Turkey and Greece, when he enlisted on a Greek warship. At the outbreak of the Spanish war he enlisted in the U. S. navy, serving on the cruiser Columbia. Afterward McCombs entered the American merchant marine only to leave it when a revolution broke out in Nicaragua.

He served under Madrid during the revolution and then returned to Seattle, where he remained until he started for Mexico last fall, to join the insurgent forces.

TEST VOTE ON RECIPROCITY

House Majority For Immediate Consideration

PASSAGE SEEMS ASSURED

Almost Entire Opposition Comes From Republican Side—Gardner the Only Man of Massachusetts Delegation Against Canadian Agreement—Cabinet Members to Take Stump This Week in Favor of the Measure

Washington, Feb. 14.—The house of representatives is now considering the reciprocity agreement, all attempts to sidetrack the McCall resolution having failed. The test vote on the proposal to delay, 196 to 121, indicates that the measure will go through without a hitch, and that it will reach the senate during the present week.

Almost the entire opposition to immediate discussion, significantly enough, came from the Republican side of the house. The administration meanwhile will continue its campaign with renewed vigor. This week several members of the cabinet will deliver addresses in favor of the agreement.

While the vote to displace the regular order for the day on the house calendar and take up reciprocity cannot be accepted as an exact indication on the final vote on the bill, it is regarded as being approximately so. The vote against taking up the measure was almost wholly from the Republican side.

The Democrats voted almost solidly for immediate consideration. Some of the Republicans who voted against displacing the regular order are not expected to place themselves on record against reciprocity at a final vote. Mr. McCall will handle the time for debate in favor of the bill and Mr. Dalzell will serve in like capacity for the opposition.

A total of 103 Republicans and 18 Democrats voted against the McCall motion to consider the bill.

Representative Gardner alone of the Massachusetts delegation stood against McCall on the question of taking up the Canadian reciprocity bill. All the other members were present and voted aye. The roll call disclosed nine out of twelve Republicans in Minnesota and the two Dakotas voting against McCall, but one, Miller of Minnesota, will vote for the bill, his vote having been dictated by his desire to take up district business. Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of appropriations, voted with McCall, notwithstanding his fear for the barley interests, and Nye and Stevens voted with him. Poindexter, the Washington insurgent, soon to be senator, voted with the majority.

The bill is first being considered as in committee of the whole house on the state of the union. All bills affecting the revenue are thus considered. Speaker Cannon called Representative Mann of Illinois to the chair to preside over the committee during the consideration of the measure. In the earlier proceedings, Cannon, by recognizing McCall and declaring his motion to take up the reciprocity bill a privileged matter, had shown a disposition to help the cause along to a vote, despite the sentiments against reciprocity which he expressed in a letter to the Illinois legislature on Saturday.

Representative Hill of Connecticut, one of the Republican members of the committee on ways and means, was recognized for one hour in support of the reciprocity agreement. He explained the measure in great detail. Mr. Hill was interrupted from time to time for questions. Asked if he was in favor of free trade with Canada, Hill said he favored unrestricted trade with every country where the costs of production did not differ from that in the United States. Hill declared that talk of injury to various interests in the United States as a result of reciprocity was based on apprehension and not on fact.

WILD MAN IN CUSTODY

Has Probably Been Roaming Around For Several Years

Chattanooga, Feb. 14.—A wild man, with hair more than a foot long and finger nails grown to a length of two inches, has been arrested and placed in the Marshall county jail. The maniac is about 25, and from all that can be learned regarding him, he has been roaming wild several years. Several days ago he attacked a physician who was passing along a public road.

WOULD MAKE MEN WORK

How a Woman Legislator Proposes to Inaugurate Reform

Denver, Feb. 14.—Woman suffrage in Colorado does not mean that a man may sit around and do nothing, according to a speech made in the state legislature by Mrs. Agnes Riddle, representative from Arapahoe and Elbert counties, in support of an eight hour law for working women.

Her speech was so effective that the bill passed on second reading with only one dissenting vote.

"This law should be passed," declared Mrs. Riddle, "not only to help the women who are employed, but to help the men and also to make the men go to work. In the cities the women work such long hours and for such small pay that the employers hire them instead of men. This results in the woman doing the work while the man sits at home and wears out the seat of his pants. The men should go to work and the women stay at home and raise families."

The nation needs mothers, homemakers, and housewives. In the city where so many girls are employed, many of them get married and keep right on working. They are thrown into contact with too many men and some of them find a man that they like better than their husband. Then comes a divorce. Let the women stay at home and do their housework and raise a whole flock of children."

EDNA GOODRICH WINS

Referee Reports That Actor's Wife Is Entitled to Divorce

New York, Feb. 14.—The referee in the divorce suit of Edna Goodrich, who is Mrs. Nat Goodwin, has decided in favor of Miss Goodrich.

Counsel Roth said: "After the filing of the referee's report I shall move for an absolute divorce."

Mr. Roth said that Miss Goodrich made no request for alimony. "Mr. Goodwin, before his marriage, executed for Miss Goodrich a deed of gift of one-half interest in $1,600,000 worth of property—bonds and California real estate," added Roth. "On Mr. Goodwin's death all of this fortune goes to Miss Goodrich. So, you see, she is well provided for. She is now obtaining an income of approximately $50,000 a year from her half of the $1,600,000."

PRISON SENTENCE FOR SMUGGLING

It Is Completed by Mrs. Hill and She Is Released

New York, Feb. 14.—The prison sentence of three days in the Tombs, imposed last Friday upon Mrs. Roberta M. C. Hill, divorced wife of Captain Hill of the British army, who pleaded guilty to a charge of smuggling, expired Monday and Mrs. Hill was released.

Mrs. Hill, the first woman upon whom a prison sentence has been imposed here on a smuggling accusation, pleaded guilty to a charge of bringing a $6000 sable coat and jewelry valued at $2700 into the country from France without payment of duty.

The sentence was imposed after a recent warning from the federal bench that imprisonment would hereafter be a part of the penalty in smuggling cases.

KILLED BY COAL GAS

Conclusion of Chemists Who Probed Twigg-Elosser Mystery

Cumberland, Md., Feb. 14.—That Charles B. Twigg and Grace Elosser, the young couple found dead in the parlor of the Elosser home on Dec. 31 last, the eve of their wedding day, came to their end from carbon monoxide (coal gas) poisoning was the conclusion of the chemists who tested the blood of the two victims. State Attorney Robb announced the result of the chemists' analysis.

Heretofore the authorities have maintained that the pair met their death by cyanide of potassium, the coroner's jury returning a verdict to that effect.

A BATTLE OF DETECTIVES

EMPLOYED BY PARENTS OF ARNOLD AND GRISCOM TO FIND DOROTHY ARNOLD.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 13.—The search for Dorothy Arnold, the missing daughter of Francis R. Arnold, the millionaire perfume importer of New York city, today resolved itself into a battle of wits between detectives employed by George S. Griscom, Sr., the Pittsburgh millionaire father of George S. Griscom, Jr., and Miss Arnold's father. The object of both is to locate the young woman.

The Arnold detectives' purpose is to find Dorothy, through the medium of Griscom, Jr., and prevent the latter from marrying her, while the Griscom detectives are expected to devise means whereby Griscom, Jr., may meet the young woman, who because she could not marry the man she loved, disappeared from home on Dec. 12, and make good his declaration that he will marry her when she is found.

Today Roger O'Mara, ex-chief of the Pittsburgh detectives, whose special mission of late years has been to watch over the sons of Pittsburgh millionaires, entered the case to assist the Griscoms. O'Mara, who was employed in the defence of Harry Thaw, and who has been Thaw's trustee since he has been in Mattamoras, will endeavor to see that Griscom meets the young woman tomorrow, as per the personal interest in a New York paper Saturday.

The Arnolds, alarmed by the confidence of the 42-year-old suitor that the young woman was to be produced after the return of the mother from Europe and a marriage arranged, have brought detectives from New York, and they are besieging the hotel so that not a movement of the Griscoms can escape their notice.

It has developed that the Griscoms have no intention of returning to New York. Their five trunks were received here yesterday from New York. Everything indicates that the dash to see the young woman who has been mysteriously absent from her parents' home for nine weeks will be in the direction of Philadelphia.

O'Mara this morning went to the hotel and was carried to the Griscom suite on the third floor. "I will tell the father that he and Mrs. Griscom should go at once to Pittsburgh and leave the son behind, to take care of himself in this disturbance," he said. "The father and mother are all broken up over the affair and must get away."

He declined to explain what he meant by "the disturbance." While the detective denied that his appearance had any connection with the Arnold girl's disappearance, it was a coincidence that one of the first persons sought by Griscom, Sr., was O'Mara. The latter has been here since Tuesday, saying he came for his health.

The question of health is entering largely into this case. D. Hinkley Arnold, Dorothy's brother and her favorite, came to Atlantic City for his "health." John C. Sussman, the confidential manager of Francis R. Arnold, also came here yesterday for his "health." It was not until he came here that it was known detectives were watching Griscom, Jr.

That there is the possibility of a quick getaway being attempted by Griscom was borne out by the statement of the manager of a local garage. He admitted last night that he had been asked if it would be possible to get a high power automobile at any hour of the day or night for a quick dash across the state. He declined to say who wanted to know.

THEATRICAL TOPICS

"The Red Mill"

Martin and Emery company's production, "The Red Mill," the musical novelty of the year, with book and lyrics by Henry Blossom and music by Victor Herbert, will be the attraction at Music Hall Feb. 27.

"The Red Mill" comes with perhaps the most thorough endorsement ever accorded a comic opera, having been presented for an entire season at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, during which time some 379 performances were given, following with engagements in Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia, of three months each. The play is conceded to be the most novel musical offering of many seasons, having a consistent and well written story, with a melodramatic "thrill" which fairly took New York off its feet.

Mr. Herbert has provided a score of musical gems, and Messrs. Martin and Emery have given a production in their well known style. The scores being laid in Holland, ample opportunity is given for the most picturesque scenery, while the costumes are decidedly quaint and artistic.

The company which has been carefully organized, includes James Crowley as Con Kidder, Wm. Moore as Kid Connor, Harry Sleight, Bert Perry, Percy Bacon, Jos. Collins and the Misses Vernice Maryn, Fay Adams, Lenore Butler, Lala Dennison and a chorus of forty, including the six little Dutch Kiddies, also an augmented orchestra.

Among Victor Herbert's song hits heard in "The Red Mill" perhaps the most popular are "Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me," "You Never Can Tell About a Woman," "Go, While the Gold's Good," "The Streets of New York," "Because You're You," "The Isle of Our Dreams," and "I Want You to Marry Me."

"The Time, The Place and The Girl" Of "The Time, The Place and The Girl," which comes to Music Hall Feb. 28, the St. John, N. B., Telegraph says: Judging by its effects on the audience The Time, The Place and The Girl, which opened its engagement at the Opera House, last evening, can lay claim to be one of the most mirth provoking productions which the St. John public has had an opportunity of witnessing in a long time. A musical extravaganza would be a more appropriate description of the piece, as in several respects it does not follow the lines of musical comedy as ordinarily understood.

It is a hustling piece and everybody and everything in it are kept at the highest pitch of careless activity and rush. Screamingly funny situations succeed one another in breathless rapidity, and there are also a few serious and sentimental touches which are effectively handled. The scene is laid at a sanitarium in Virginia whence Johnny Hicks, a happy-go-lucky gambler, albeit, possessing a heart of gold, and his pal, Tom Cunningham, flee for refuge to escape arrest, the expected result of a spree followed by a free fight, the previous night in Boston. Cunningham is in reality a rich man's son, and complications begin when he becomes infatuated with The Girl, in the winsome person of Margaret Simpson, who is at the sanitarium with her father and brother, and a more or less merry and irresponsible party of school girls. Fresh complications arise when before the arrival of the police who are on the track of the refugees, the sanitarium is placed under quarantine and the visitors are forced to do the work of the establishment and are assigned to various domestic and mental jobs by their chosen boss for the time being, viz: Tom Cunningham.

Jessie Webster, a dainty soubrette, showed to very great advantage as the girl, Margaret, and Cella Mavis was exceedingly clever, both in song and action, and looked very captivating as the nurse Molly Kelly. She was exceedingly witty in the travesty on Sarah Bernhardt in Camille, with Thomas Cameron as Salvini in Othello. This specialty is an exceptionally clever one, and another musical number that was scenically and musically effective, was the waning honeymoon in which Miss Delamater's powerful soprano voice featured while the dances and musical drills by the "Summer Girls" and "Brothers" at the end of the second act were exceedingly ingenious and novel and scenically perfective. Tamborines and bells being cleverly handled and the general ensemble being excellent.

The comedy work of Thomas Cameron, as Johnny Hicks, was exceptionally clever and he kept the audience in a constant roar of laughter. His energy was surprising and he would certainly seem to have exhausted the dictionary of American slang. Lee Frost was screamingly funny in the comedy character part of Willy Talcott, the idiot. Herbert Morrison's resonant high baritone voice was heard to advantage in Blow the Smoke Away, and as Laurie Farnham he was seen to good effect. As the pal, Tom Cunningham, Donald MacKenzie had a big part to play and proved thoroughly equal to every emergency as boss of the help at the sanitarium. Harry Hodgins filled the character role of Bud Simpson, a down east farmer, very amusingly. The costuming and staging throughout was rich and varied. The piece will be repeated tonight and on Friday and Saturday.

Stops carache in two minutes; toothache or pain of burn or scald in five minutes; hoarseness, one hour; muscleache, two hours; sore throat, twelve hours—Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil, monarch over pain.

The Elks will hold a valentine party in their home this evening and a great time is expected.

TO BE PRESENTED THIS WEEK

Many Bills of Local Interest Now before the Maine Legislature

The Maine legislature has voted to order the engrossed bills for protecting fish three years in York pond, Eliot; Clarkson pond, Kittery; and Polly pond, York; for authorizing the county commissioners of York county to co-operate with the county commissioners of adjoining New Hampshire counties in freeing toll bridges whenever the laws of New Hampshire shall permit the co-operation; for allowing Kittery water district to sell water in a portion of York; for granting Horace Mitchell and associates the right to erect a dam on the east branch of Spruce creek in Kittery; for allowing the building of a bridge across the mill pond in York; for allowing York Shore Water company to extend its territory; for confirming the charter rights of the Atlantic Shore Line Railway to the purchasers at receivers' sale last December. The engrossed bills will be presented this week for enactment, and there is no known opposition.

There is a fight on in York county over the proposition to make a special municipal court for South Berwick, Berwick, Eliot, Kittery and York. It is opposed by a proposition for dividing York county into four municipal court districts, of which the southern would comprise North Berwick, Berwick, South Berwick, Eliot, Kittery, York and Wells with sittings at Berwick, South Berwick, Kittery, York and Wells. Both bills are before the legislature at Augusta.

RAH FOR NEW HAMPSHIRE!

That New Hampshire is being hoomed by her sons away from home is a most gratifying bit of information. Active loyalty to their native state might reasonably be expected at such a time to take second place for school spirit, but we learn that the New Hampshire boys at the University of Pennsylvania have started a movement to spread information about their home state among the students in the University, which redounds much to their credit.

A New Hampshire club has been organized which holds regular meetings at which the industries, the political activities and the natural resources and beauties of New Hampshire are discussed for the benefit of the undergraduates. The club is planning to pursue this campaign energetically.

At present there are eighteen New Hampshire boys at the University of Pennsylvania. Eleven are attending the Wharton school of Finance and Commerce of the University, two are entered in the Veterinary department, four in the Dental and one in the Graduate school, and in addition to pushing the campaign of education about New Hampshire, the members of the club are taking an important part in University of Pennsylvania activities.

It is decidedly flattering to our vanity to be told, as we are in a circular issued by the Bureau of Information of the University of Pennsylvania, that the New Hampshire boys at Pennsylvania seem to take a greater pride in their state than those of many other of the states in the Union.

Health, long life and prosperity to the New Hampshire club, and may its tribe increase!

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

ADangerous Censorship

We may expect the postoffice management, in its endorsement of higher postage rates upon popular magazines, of anything worse than its habitual attitude of driving away business with a club. But upon the influences behind the proposal no such tolerant comment is possible.

The object of the bill is not to make the postoffice self supporting. That might better be done by increasing than by decreasing the usefulness of the department; by introducing parcels post and otherwise seeking more business instead of less.

No, the object now cynically admitted is to cripple the so-called "muck raking" publications or drive them out of business. The proposed new arrangement will penalize chiefly periodicals of low price and wide circulation—the popular magazines. As Gov. Woodrow Wilson says, it would be "a direct tax, and a very serious one, upon the formation and expression of opinion."

There are powerful men who would be glad to see the magazines of political information and discussion throttled. Are the people prepared to see that purpose carried out by an arbitrary and tyrannous misuse of the public power of taxation?—New York World.

PEOPLES' OPINIONS

Editor Herald:—

I see Mr. Reader says "any school boy can be a street car conductor or at least try." That is surely true; any one can be an admiral or at least try; but the same as street car conductors "Many are called but few are chosen."

I claim and all fair-minded persons will agree with me that a street car conductor who makes good is surely on a level with a train conductor. Consider the number of people he carries, the stops he makes to take and leave his passengers, the care exercised to see that none are injured, the trips back and forth through his car, and many other things Reader knows nothing about; and who does he have to help him? He is not fortunate enough to have 2 or 3 trainmen to do the work for him. He does something besides collect tickets and stand in railroad stations with his watch in his hand.

All things considered he is surely on a level with his brother in steam service. JUSTICE.

Mr. Editor—Will you kindly make correction of the report of what I said at the hearing at City Hall last evening, regarding the proposed change in the city charter.

I am quoted as saying: "I am assured that the people who created the bill had the interest of the city at heart and no personal interests like those who now sought to have it repealed."

What I did say was "That I was assured that the people who were instrumental in making the bill, creating the Board of Public Works a law, had the best interests of the city at heart, as much as those who now sought to have it repealed." I would not accuse the parties desiring the change of having wrong motives or selfish interests. One man's opinion is entitled to as much respect as another's. LEWIS E. STAPLES.

World's Iron Supply Will Not Run Short in Many Years

THE world is not likely to run short of iron, and consequently of steel, for another fifteen hundred years.

Suppose iron goes up in cost, other conditions of our daily life remaining the same, transportation and all manufacturing based on machinery would become more expensive and less freely carried on.

Undoubtedly an appreciable pressure would be developed to turn our people back to the rural districts and to tilling the soil for a livelihood. Shall we perhaps find in the long run, in the increasing cost of iron and steel, a partial solution of a much vexed problem? Will the cry "Back to the soil" receive support in a way not generally anticipated?

In the end we can perhaps justifiably forecast a future in which agriculture will figure more and more prominently and in which the moral, intellectual and spiritual life of the nation will readjust itself accordingly.

Great and concentrated wealth is likely to be less in evidence, materialistic influences less pronounced and from the vantage ground afforded by the greater comforts and opportunities of modern life as compared with that of a century or a half century past we may in the distant future look forward to an evolution upon somewhat different lines. Broadly viewed, the national life will probably be increasingly sympathetic with art and with ideals.

KITTERY LETTER

Kittery, Feb. 14.

One of the crews of the ferryboat Alice Howard of the Atlantic Shore Line seem to be running in hard luck recently. Capt. Henry A. Marden has been off duty with illness for over a month, his place being filled by Amos W. Amee until Monday when he resumed work. George Woodward and Fireman Alfred Caswell are now on the sick list. Conductor Frank Locke is acting as purser, while Conductor Frank Hucksins is filling on Caswell's shift.

The Whittier social held recently under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society of the Second Christian church at the home of its president, Mrs. J. R. Wentworth, was a most interesting affair. A fine program was given which had been arranged by Alexander Dennett. Mrs. Annie Hobbs gave a very concise account of the poet's life. Several of his masterpieces were read and some music interspersed which helped make the evening pass pleasantly. Refreshments were served by the hostess who did everything to make the evening a pleasant one. Another poet will be taken up at some future date.

The Pine Hill Whist club met on Monday evening with Mrs. Nellie Jackson. First prize was won by Mrs. Anville Young, second by Mrs. John Green and third by Miss Susie Paul. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Edward E. Shapleigh.

Mrs. Clarence White, wife of the manager of the new Hotel Brexton, formerly the Orman House, which opened Monday, is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Miss Hattie Emery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Emery of Government street, is ill with pneumonia, and her brother George is suffering with the grippe.

Tickets were sent out on Monday to the members of the Kittery High School Alumni Association, for the annual reunion, which takes place next week from tonight in Wentworth hall. The program will commence at 8 o'clock, the grand march at 9.30. The address of the evening will be delivered by Rev. I. James Merry, pastor of the Congregational church at Kittery Point. Music will be by Hoyt and Parker's orchestra.

Mrs. Ida Marshall returned to York on Monday after visiting her daughter for a week.

The scarcity of empty tenement about town is very noticeable.

William F. Mackay, a marine, was held in $400 in police court this morning before Judge Shaw, for a felonious assault on Milton C. Spinney, last night, in the rear of buildings near the town landing. Spinney was given a term of ninety days in jail or night-walking.

Kittery Point

Since Sunday morning, when Morton Seaward left his newly established bakery to go to Kittery on business, nothing has been seen or heard of him, and his family and many friends are distressed over his absence. For some time past Mr. Seaward has been subject to recurring attacks on the brain, during which periods he has been delirious and it is feared that he was suddenly stricken after leaving home and went away while mentally irresponsible. Mr. Seaward is known by all his neighbors as an upright, hardworking man, who has had a distressingly long run of hard luck, and he and his family have the sympathy of all in their misfortune. It is hoped that as in other cases, he will regain his normal mind and return home in safety.

The report that Rev. I. J. Merry of the Congregational church had resigned his pastorate to take up work in the West, as stated in another paper, is without foundation.

Our Political Postoffice

John Wanamaker was Postmaster General; Senator Boies Penrose is chairman of the great Postoffice Committee of the United States Senate; Thomas H. Carter, Senator from Montana, has served many years on that committee.

No three men in the United States are better versed in postoffice affairs and needs than these.

On February 9, 1911, the Senate Postoffice Committee, under the leadership of Senators Penrose and Carter, reported favorably to the Senate for action the Postoffice Appropriation bill, containing a provision, put in without allowing public hearing or open consideration, but under political pressure from the White House, that increases the postage rate on magazines and periodicals to such an extent that it practically absorbs all the profits of the publishing business of the country and makes the further production of popular-priced magazines impossible. It imposes a tax that is confiscatory.

Notwithstanding, within the year Senator Boies Penrose said, referring to the Carter Weeks bill:

"These are some of the big features of the bill. The whole intent is to systemize and to modernize the entire postal system. It is idle to take up such questions as apportioning the cost of carrying second-class mail matter or the proper compensation of railroads for transporting the mail's until we shall have established business methods in postoffice affairs by a reorganization of the whole postal system."

"The commission unanimously recommended the passage of the projected bill. Personally I have been very much interested in all the details and, of course, am heartily in favor of the change to be made."

Senator Carter said last March:

"But I must forego further pursuit of details. The bill was cordially approved by Postmaster General Meyer and his assistants, and likewise has the approval of Postmaster General Hitchcock. It failed of passage during the last Congress owing to lack of time for its proper consideration, but I have reintroduced the bill, which is now designated Senate 6287, Second Session, Sixty-first Congress. The Committee on Postoffices and Postroads will favorably report the bill to the Senate, and it should be enacted into law before the close of this session. I believe not only that it will increase efficiency, but that, after the expense of installation is absorbed, it will result in such economies in the administration of the department and service as will more than wipe out the deficiency. In operating under it the department will be able with almost unerring certainty to determine the actual cost of each service performed, thereby reaching a sound basis for legislation such as is neither available nor obtainable under the present system."

"I deeply sympathize with the earnest desire of the department officials to get rid of the deficiency they are fated to encounter each year, but I submit that the first real movement toward that end must begin with the substitution of a modern, up-to-date business organization for the existing antiquated system, which rests upon a few sections of the law enacted in 1835, supplemented by statutory fragments added from time to time since that year."

John Wanamaker said recently:

"With Mr. Hitchcock's suggestion, however, there will be no general agreement. The magazines are supported, not by the price paid for the magazine by the readers, but by the advertisers."

"In a sense, magazines are private concerns; but they have a public function to perform—an educational function. To tax the advertisements is to tax the quality of the educational matter contained in the pages, for the advertisements enable the publishers to pay high prices for literature and educational articles. The price paid for a magazine does not pay for the printing and the paper. If Mr. Hitchcock's suggestion should become part of the President's plan it would mean that the public would suffer in the loss of much educational material that the publishers then would be unable to buy."

We urge every friend of honest politics, economical government and a free press to telegraph or write an immediate protest to their Senators and Representatives at Washington.

TO BE INTERNATIONAL EVENT

Launching of First Foreign Battleship from a United States Shipyard

Sometime in the early summer of this year the first battleship ever built by a U. S. shipyard for a foreign power will be launched from the Fore River shipyards in Quincy. The ship will be the Rivadavia for the Argentine Republic, and she will be what has come to be known among shipbuilding men as a "superdreadnought." When she goes down the ways it is expected the launching ceremony will be an international event of great importance.

The work is now so far advanced that one can gain a very good idea of what this 27,000-ton monster will look like. It can be truthfully said that the Rivadavia will look like nothing that is now afloat in the U. S. navy. It is said to resemble the British ship Lion now building.

She was designed by a former U. S. naval officer of world-wide reputation, Francis T. Bowles, president of the Fore River shipbuilding company, a former head of the bureau of construction and repair of the U. S. navy, an officer of eminent capability.

In the Rivadavia Admiral Bowles has designed a ship that was the "first word" in marine fighting machines at the time her keel was laid down. There have been no improvements made in her style since, although some navies have begun to equip their ships with bigger guns. When completed the Rivadavia will have, on account of her great length, "a lean and hungry look," a characteristic which Caesar said was associated with dangerous people.

The Rivadavia has two smoke pipes, one just aft the forward bridge and the other just in front of the after bridge, with a distance of a couple of hundred feet or more between them.

The forward end, as far as bridge, conning towers, turrets and guns are concerned, is an exact replica of the stern end, with a smoke pipe at each end. The only difference at all, as far as the eye can judge, is that the military mast, like the U. S. type, is just back of the forward bridge and before the forward smoke pipe.

The Rivadavia's principal dimensions are as follows: Length, 385 feet; breadth, 85 feet; normal draft, 27 feet 6 inches; height above water line: foremast, 25 feet 6 inches; amidship, 22 feet 8 inches; stern, 17 feet 1 inch.

The total displacement of the Rivadavia will be 27,500 tons, a displacement that is supposed to guarantee a steady boat and insure a high offensive and defensive efficiency. The superstructure on the upper deck will be suppressed completely to avoid obstruction to the arc of fire of the main guns as well as to reduce the target surface offered the enemy.

The armor protection of the Rivadavia will be 12 inches thick, 200 feet long, extending 4 feet 9 inches above and 3 feet 4 inches below the normal water line. This belt will be continued 75 feet more at each end, until it comes abreast the extreme turrets, but its thickness will be reduced to 9 feet. On top of the main belt for its whole length of 400 feet there will be 9-inch armor and beyond the central turret the armor will be six inches thick forward and 4 inches thick aft.

Besides the main belt and side armor, extending between the centers of the extreme turrets, there will also, at the level of these turrets, be some transverse armor extending from side to side, thus completing the armored box which will protect the machinery, boiler, magazines and the main and secondary batteries.

The smokestacks will be protected by 11-2 inches normal steel casing, extending from their base up to 35 feet above the upper deck. Above the upper deck there will be armor 6 inches thick, for the protection of the 12-inch guns. The total weight of all the armor will be about 7000 tons.

Below the water line the ship will be protected by means of a double bottom, transverse and longitudinal bulkheads, dividing the vessel into watertight compartments, fitted with electrically-driven centrifugal pumps which can be operated even when the compartment is entirely flooded. Externally, in time of war, the Rivadavia will be protected by a steel torpedo net which will be held in place 30 feet from the ship's sides.

The battery of the Rivadavia is a formidable one. She will have 12 12-inch, 50-caliber guns, mounted in pairs in six turrets arranged so that all can be fired on either side. As the ship goes higher day by day, while as the landscape may be under its winter shroud today we have promise of the revival of life hidden underneath. And so we celebrate by sending love messages in mystic form which appeals to all of sentimental character and the humorous ones are enjoyed by those of a happy disposition.

The acts are high priced, one and all of the cleverest seen in vaudeville in this city. It will remain here for Tuesday and Wednesday and is sure to draw a big crowd.

GREAT OPPOSITION TO THE HETT BILL

Public Hearing on Repeal of Board of Public Works Brings Out Many Objectors—But Three Appear for Bill.

A public hearing on the house bill No. 116, to amend the charter of the City of Portsmouth, establishing a Board of Water Commissioners and repeal chapter 240 of the laws of 1909, a bill introduced by Mr. John August Hett of Ward One, and referred to the Portsmouth delegation, was held at the city building on Monday evening before the members of the delegation; that is, four of them, for there were present only Chairman E. P. Stoddard, Representative Geo. D. Marcy, John August Hett and William Casey.

There were about thirty representative men present and it was a very orderly meeting, with but three men appearing in favor of the bill.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman E. P. Stoddard and Representative George D. Marcy was elected secretary.

Chairman Stoddard stated the object of the hearing, and called upon Representative Hett, the author of the bill. Mr. Hett said that he had been given the bill to introduce and he had asked that it be referred to the Portsmouth delegation and had asked for a public hearing. He said that he wanted an expression of the people and was willing to stand by what they wanted.

Mr. J. H. Whitaker, superintendent of the Rockingham County Light and Power company, was opposed to the bill and he thought that the present law should be given a chance to work itself out. He did not think that the Board of Public Works could demonstrate what they could do in a year's time. He spoke highly of the ability of the City Engineer, Mr. Parker, who was a competent man and if allowed to have full charge he was confident that he would make good.

Mr. Harry J. Freeman appeared in opposition to the bill, and said he agreed with Mr. Whitaker that there should not be a change, and that the Board should be given a chance to work out the principles of the consolidation.

Captain J. Albert Sanborn was the next speaker and he was the first to speak in favor of the bill. He delivered a long address on the Board of Public Works and claimed that it was illegal and unconstitutional, and asserted that it was rushed through the legislature in opposition to the will of the people and by fraud; that the vote stood four to four and one man had a proxy, which made the majority upon which it was reported favorable to the house. He went into a history of the pumping stations and their efficiency, which he claimed were not as good now as before. That the wells had been pulled up and the old board of water commissioners. That the consumption of water had risen from 1,250,000 when the old board had it to 1,800,000 now, and that the city was short of water.

Mr. Harry E. Boynton, a former member of the Board of Public Works, appeared in opposition to the Hett bill, and gave a concise report of what the board found and had done during the year they had been in office. That it consolidated the departments, which was the best thing, and that the board was for the best interests of the city in every way. They had found things in a bad shape, the street department with seven horses, three of which were condemned at once, and with a poor equipment. The water department had been systemized. An inspection had revealed $1500 in revenue that was not being paid the city by water takers, and a system of card registers established of inspection, service, etc. That an inspection was being made of the mains, the first in 17 years, and by this they hoped to cut down the consumption of water two or three hundred thousand gallons a day, owing to the leaks that must exist in the old lines.

The financial standing of the water department had been materially improved in a year's time. When they took charge on Jan. 1, 1910, they had a balance on hand in cash and uncollected bills of $20,945.75, and Jan. 1, 1911 they had on hand in cash and uncollected water rates $32,712 as a working capital, an increase of $12,000. He said that it was a great showing considering that it had been the first year and he predicted a great increase in the efficiency of the department, but it would take two or three years to make it run smooth. On the streets permanent work would have to be done, and that meant that when a street was laid down all of the pipes underneath would have to be gone over. He cited the lack of harmony in the laying of the asphalt in State and Daniel streets. That from Middle street to Church street on State there was no sewer, and on Daniel street there was no public sewer under the asphalt pavement. This meant in time that it would have to be dug up. In conclusion he said that he considered that it would be a step backward to abolish the Board of Public Works and hoped that the delegation would not do it.

Captain Sanborn claimed that the difference in the financial standing in the two years was that the Board of Public Works had made three collections in the past year against two the previous year. Mr. Boynton disposed of this by stating that the comparisons were made of exactly the same conditions and the increase was as he had stated.

Major David Urch appeared in favor of the bill, and started by asking the Chairman how many of the delegation there were present. Chairman Stoddard replied there were four: Messrs. Hett, Marcy, Casey and himself.

Major Urch asked if it were true that a majority of the delegation had already signed the bill in expedient to legislate. Chairman Stoddard replied "that is the business of the delegation and they would take care of it at the right time, you can

In conclusion he said that he considered that it would be a step backward to abolish the Board of Public Works and hoped that the delegation would not do it.

Captain Sanborn claimed that the difference in the financial standing in the two years was that the Board of Public Works had made three collections in the past year against two the previous year. Mr. Boynton disposed of this by stating that the comparisons were made of exactly the same conditions and the increase was as he had stated.

Major David Urch appeared in favor of the bill, and started by asking the Chairman how many of the delegation there were present. Chairman Stoddard replied there were four: Messrs. Hett, Marcy, Casey and himself.

Major Urch asked if it were true that a majority of the delegation had already signed the bill in expedient to legislate. Chairman Stoddard replied "that is the business of the delegation and they would take care of it at the right time, you can proceed either in favor or against the bill."

Mr. Urch then said that he was in favor of the bill on the ground that the Board of Public Works was a government by a commission and he was opposed to such forms of government. He dealt upon the way the bill had been passed, on a similar vein to that of Captain Sanborn, and then went into a history of the water works. He claimed that it was a crime that four pumps were used now to do the work that two were doing under send out of town to get a man to act as city engineer, and then went into the increase in the force and the cost of running the Board of Public Works; a city engineer, a superintendent of streets, an assistant surveyor and two roadmen and a stenographer, with an expensive office.

Ex-Mayor John W. Emery appeared in opposition to the bill and stated that he was opposed to repealing the Board of Public Works bill.

Mr. Richard Weston appeared as a common citizen in favor of the bill, making the third during the hearing.

Major Urch asked Mr. Weston, who admitted that he had been an engineer at the pumping station, several questions and he gave his opinion of the matter with the system and how it could be remedied. During this Captain Sanborn explained the use of vacuum pipes.

Ex-Mayor William E. Marvin appeared in opposition to the bill, and spoke in a humorous vein on it, being the work of the republicans, he said that he had just read the bill and found that it provided for the abolishment of the Board of Public Works and the creation of a similar board under another name of Board of Water Commissioners, with the same duties and elected in the same way. The election of the present board was the same as in the bill and if they were called Water Commissioners they would be complying with the new bill. He was opposed to the bill for the reason that it was inspired by political revenge and not for the interest of the city. The only difference in the present Board of Public Works and the new bill was the divorcing of the street commission from the water works and the election of the official in the old way. The present election of the street commissioner was the real merit of the Board of Public Works. He cited the case when he was mayor and from experience said that it was much better that all departments should be together, with one board in charge. There was a deplorable lack of system under the old conditions, and a lack of knowledge of what was under the ground. He found that they could not find sewers and no records were maintained of new work. Now it was different and as it should be. Summing it up, he was opposed to the bill on three grounds: First, the bill does not remedy; second, it was bad to create two departments to have charge of the city engineering; third, that there was too many sessions of the legislature, and too many laws; that at the present time it would take a lawyer a day to find out a simple matter about the city charter with the amendments that have been made at each session.

Ex-Mayor Wallace Hackett said that he did not intend to speak, but he wanted to reply to the statements that had been made in relation to the passage of the Board of Public Works bill. He was a member of the delegation and the bill had been given careful deliberation. A majority had favored it, and there was no unfairness. When the report went to the house it was a new thing, and it had been his privilege to explain it. It had been passed by a big majority. It was passed in all fairness;

it was legal in every way, and the gentlemen need not worry over the legality of the bond issue. The reason for the passage was the consolidation of the three departments of the city. It was the modern way of doing business and ten or a dozen cities in Massachusetts had adopted the same method of doing business. If allowed to work out a year longer nobody would even think of having it repealed. He said that the Board last year had done what no other Board had done; that is, pay in $5000 to the sinking fund and they had also carried the city through one of the greatest droughts in the history of New England. Give the Board time, they were competent and don't go back to incompetent politics.

Mr. Lewis E. Staples appeared in opposition to the bill, saying that he simply wanted to stand up and be counted in the opposition to a bill that would repeal the Board of Public Works. He was assured that the people who had created the bill had the interest of the city at heart and no personal interests like those who now sought to have it repealed. Give the Board time and they would work out the conditions.

Mr. Benjamin Burke was in opposition to the bill and said that he had followed public opinion for many years and he was convinced that it was in favor of the Board of Public Works. He was in favor of having it retained and not like the gang that were back of the other bill, who dig and knock everybody who is for the good of the city.

Chairman Stoddard inquired if there were any others who wished to be heard, and none appearing he thanked them in behalf of the delegation and said that they would give it careful deliberation.

AN UP TO DATE DRUGGIST

It is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

There are several important hearings before the legislative committee in Concord this week.

It tried hard to make some impression with snow on Monday, but the total fall did not amount to half an inch.

The greater number of the Portsmouth delegation to the legislature returned on Monday evening for committee meetings.

There were five drunks on the police blotter last night. One of them was George Russell, arrested near the residence of Dr. Treadwell on State street, where he was trying to gain an entrance. He was arrested by Officers West and Robinson. Another was a woman found on Water street and taken to the station in a sleigh by Officers Philbrick and West. She was dead to the world.

FEDERALS MEETING WITH HEAVY LOSSES

Driven Back By Rebels---American Troops Under Fire.

Marfa, Texas, Feb. 13—Delayed advice received here today clear up suspense over results of the fighting between insurgents and federals around Multa. The last word, received in the middle of last week, told of federal reverses in an assault on rebel lines at Multa.

News received here today says the tide of battle remained the same, with the result that the federals retreated to Ojinaga, their base of supplies. The insurgents were unable to check Duque's retreat. Their supply of ammunition was exhausted.

The federal loss was 40 killed and wounded.

The insurgent loss was one killed and wounded throughout the two days' battle. Their leader, Ortega, had provided excellent defensive works against the federals' assaults. The insurgents fought from behind breastworks, stone heaps and trees. It reminded one of days of fighting when the Indian combated the westward march of the Yankee.

Stories are told of federal soldiers' cruelty to noncombatants and the refusal of the insurgent leader to permit his men to take revenge.

Four old noncombatants were found in a farmhouse near Multa when the federals first approached the town. They were Eusebio de La Cruz, Cruz Samancio, Decedrio Carrasco and Matias Carrasco.

One of the men was 80 years old, another was blind, and another a cripple. The insurgents found these old men with their hands tied behind their backs lying riddled with bullets. Their heads were crushed, and one was slashed across the face by a saber.

A number of Americans viewed the bodies, and several signed an affidavit describing the incident. This sworn statement will be sent to Washington.

A dramatic incident followed the discovery of the four murdered men. A government soldier had been found lying wounded in the field. He had been cared for and fed. When the murdered men were found, several insurgents made a rush for the plaza in Multa, to take revenge by killing this wounded soldier. In the crowd was a son and a nephew of one of the aged victims. Like crazy men they ran, yelling, into the plaza and dragged the soldier into the street.

Many argued against him, but others, maddened by the sight of the butchered men, drew their pistols and declared they would kill any man that tried to stop them. At that moment, Ortega, the insurgent commander, rode into the plaza and called a halt.

"My children, he said, 'I have had a home laid in ruins and a wife and babies driven, naked and starving, into the hills, but I am not yet ready to kill an unarmed, wounded man.'

The mob's rage was quieted and only one of the victims stepped forward to take the federal soldier's life. Ortega drew his pistol. "It would break my heart to have to kill a comrade," he said, "but we shall not be murderers like the soldiers of Diaz."

The terrified wounded federal soldier was picked up, mumbering his thanks, and was removed to a shelter.

In the two days' battle the prisoners lost one man killed and one wounded. The dead man, Hilario Sanchez, was shot while battering in a door of the house with F. I. McCombs, to get at a squad of federal soldiers.

McCombs entered the house alone and drove the federals out, killing one of them. McCombs is the soldier of fortune who has earned the title of "El Diable" among the insurgents. His home is in Seattle, Wash.

During the entire battle the insurgents forced the fighting. The federals advanced along the road to within 500 yards of the town. When fired on they halted and for two days did not advance. Their two field guns and machine gun were kept playing on the insurgent lines, but did no serious damage. A battle line was formed with the infantry on the left on the Rio Grande, and the cavalry guarding the right flank. A flanking party of 16 insurgents drove in the infantry and the cavalry was driven in three times.

The battle started at 10 o'clock Feb. 7 and lasted until 5 in the night of the 8th.

The federals had 600 soldiers in the field and the insurgents mustered about 200 men. During the second day's fighting the federals were completely surrounded and were driven back each time a sortie was attempted.

In the evening Ortega made an inspection of the different detachments and found his ammunition was almost exhausted. When the federals began their retreat the insurgents were not able to halt them, but gave chase for several miles down the road.

Twenty-five dead is a conservative estimate. The federal had about 60 men missing when they returned to Ojinaga, but it is known that at least 12 deserted.

Americans Repeatedly Fired On.

The American soldiers and the federal officials guarding the American side of the Rio Grande were repeatedly fired upon by federal soldiers.

The insurgents announce their intention of capturing Cinaga as soon as they get a supply of ammunition.

Coyame, 35 miles from Ojinaga, is surrounded by a band of insurgents under Emilio Salgado, who has demanded the surrender of the government stores and archives. The town is garrisoned by a small company of rurales and a company of armed citizens. Salgado could easily capture the place, but says he will give the garrison an opportunity to surrender in order to avoid the accidental killing of noncombatant boys.

Five, all Americans, were captured by Mexican rurales yesterday, while bathing in the Rio Grande. The rurales shot at them and compelled them to wade across the river and surrender. The boys were released this morning, after being locked up all night. Capt. Williams, commanding the American troops at Presido, was on the point of ordering the commander of Ojinaga to release the boys when they returned to Presido.

FROM GRANITE STATE

Material of Cathedral in St. Louis Came from Concord Quarries.

It is hoped to have the new Roman Catholic cathedral in St. Louis, which is to cost $2,000,000, whose cornerstone was laid two and one-half years ago with great ceremony, in which Cardinal Gibbons, several archbishops and other church dignitaries took part, ready for consecration next year.

It is claimed that this cathedral will eclipse in size and beauty the celebrated Westminster cathedral of London. In the building more than 135,000 cubic feet of beautiful gray granite, cut, dressed and chiseled at the quarries in Concord, will be used, and it will cover an area of 13,500 feet. The building operations have reached an interesting stage.

Work has been begun on the great center dome, which is to be a solid arch of reinforced concrete, spherical in shape, rising to a height of 227 feet above the level of the street, and the first of its kind ever erected, on plans originated by the architects of the edifice.

The work of constructing the wooden dome is to be molded in one solid shell are nearly half completed, but it will be several months before the dome, which is by far the most difficult problem with which the artisans have had to contend in the work of construction, will be completed and ready for the stone lantern, or cupola, which is to surmount it, to serve as an observatory to be in turn surmounted by a huge gold cross that will be easily seen from all parts of St. Louis.

Beneath and within this huge dome 175 feet in diameter, will be a second concrete dome, forming the concave ceiling, which will be highly decorated with beautiful and costly mosaics.

DEDICATED TO GOLDEN EAGLES

Poem By Official of Order Honors Local Lodge.

Dr. I. Z. Kelley of Lynn, Mass., the grand vice chief and the grand instructor of the Knights of Golden Eagle, is the author of a brief poem dedicated to Oak Castle of this city, which often unites with the castles of Lynn in public meetings.

Dr. Kelley, who was 61 years old when he joined the Knights, writes in the poem of his death. When he passed St. Peter and approached the throne he saw members of the other secret organizations sitting beside the Savior. Later, the Angel Gabriel conducted him to a beautiful lake where the Knights were feasting.

When questioned why none of the Knights were seated beside the throne, the Angel Gabriel replied that they alone could be trusted alone out of his sight, wrote Dr. Kelley in the closing words.

DEATH RATE CUT DOWN

New York, Feb. 13—The Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research made known through an official statement that the often promised serum to cure cerebro spinal meningitis has been perfected and will be in regular use soon. The board of health has begun to manufacture the serum and will give it away free for a time.

Dr. Simon Flexner, the institute's head, discovered the serum by experiments with monkeys, and later it was tried on human beings, reducing the death rate from 75 per cent to 10 per cent or less. Never again, eminent medical authorities say, can there be epidemics of meningitis such as have swept New York and other American cities within the last decade and carried off thousands of victims.

The announcement reads in part as follows:

"The Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in accordance with an announcement made last summer, now gives notice that it has discontinued the general distribution of anti-meningitis serum which it has undertaken without charge ever since the discovery of this remedy for cerebro-spinal meningitis. The effectiveness of this remedy in that form of meningitis which is caused by the diplococcus intracellularis (Weichselbaum) having been generally accepted by medical authorities throughout the world, it has seemed appropriate that the Rockefeller Institute should devote to other lines of investigation the funds hitherto needed for the gratuitous distribution of the serum, handing over to the public health authorities of municipalities and states and to commercial establishments the routine preparation of the serum for general use. The anti-meningitis serum will thus take its place with the vaccine and diphtheria antitoxin as an approved agency for the protection of public health.

"The serum is administered by being injected into the spinal canal by means of lumbar puncture, an operation which is also required to secure the fluid for bacteriological diagnosis, and several separate injections of this serum are required in treating a given case. The effective employment of the serum is likely, therefore, to be restricted on account of the experience and skill required in its administration, and the high cost of the commercial product, unless the preparation, distribution and, when necessary, administration, are undertaken by state and municipal authorities."

BIG NIGHT WEDNESDAY

Odd Fellows Going to Exeter for District Meeting.

Secretary Charles H. Kehoe of Osgood lodge, I. O. O. F., has engaged a special car to convey the members of the lodge to Exeter Wednesday night for the district meeting of the Odd Fellows with District Deputy Grand Master George H. Brown.

At least seventy-five members of Osgood lodge will go to Exeter, and delegations will represent New Hampshire and Piscataqua lodges. Noble Grand Charles B. Allen and Degree Master John H. Yeaton have begun the distribution of tickets.

The committee arranging for the annual roll call of Osgood lodge completed arrangements Saturday night for the calling of the members and a banquet Feb. 23. The lodge has a membership of 402, an increase of sixty-one over last year.

It is the largest lodge of any order in the city and the third largest lodge of Odd Fellows in the state. The committee on roll call consists of Noble Grand Charles B. Allen, Secretary Charles H. Kehoe, Herbert O. Prime, John H. Yeaton, Josiah M. Varrell, William G. Drew, William F. Tilton, Joseph A. Eaton and Albert E. Rand.

SENATE REPORT SULLOWAY BILL

Washington, Feb. 13—The senate committee on pensions voted today to report favorably the Sulloway general pension bill, which already has passed the house.

It increases the general pension roll about $50,000,000 a year.

The vote was 8 to 3, the minority being Messrs. McCumber, Gore and Tamm.

Petty Officer Drowned
J. P. Gibson, a petty officer on the cruiser South Dakota, was drowned in San Diego bay last night.

Tripped at Boston
The torpedo boat destroyer, Trippe, came up the harbor to the Charlestown navy yard late yesterday, where she is to be dry docked and put in readiness for her official acceptance trials, which will be held off Rockland, Me., beginning Feb. 24. In the private trial held by the builders off Sequin the Trippe developed a speed of 32 knots an hour for a short run.

Admiral's Son "Bilged" Among the 39 midshipmen whose resignation from the naval academy will be accepted because they are hopelessly deficient in certain studies is Harold B. Sampson, a member of the first class, the youngest son of the late Rear Admiral William T.
Sampson. No official announcement of the delinquents' names has yet been made.

Will Stay in New York
The orders to the Dubuque to proceed to the West Indies have been revoked, and the vessel will remain at the navy yard, Norfolk, until further orders.

Examination at Newport Yard Gunner Edward Deakes has returned from Newport training station where he was examined with other officers of his rank for promotion.

Uncle Sam Has the Best Official and unofficial reports which have reached the navy department during the past few weeks indicate that the marksmanship of the men behind the guns in the U. S. navy is far more superior to that of the other navies of the world than is generally supposed. This subject has been thoroughly investigated abroad, not only by naval attaches, but through other sources, and the reports are interesting in the extreme.

Vessel Movements
Arrived—Dolphin at Port au Prince,
New York. Albany and New Orleans at Manila; Bailey at Washington; Prairie at Charleston; Marietta at Guantanamo; Lebanon from Samana bay for San Juan; De Long and Tingey, from Newbern, N. C., for Wilmington, N. C.; Arethusa, from Fort Arthur, Tex., for Key West.

The Prairie which vessel left Charleston, S. C., on the 10th inst., for Boston, has returned to Charleston for slight repairs. It is expected that the vessel will leave tomorrow for Boston.

Injured on the Maine
R. Bucklin, a machinist in the machinery division, accidentally fell through one of the escape hatches of U. S. S. Maine today and was cut quite badly about the head.

Prairie Coming to Boston
The Prairie, now at the navy yard, Charleston, S. C., has been ordered to proceed to Boston, Mass. Upon the completion of repairs on the Michigan and South Carolina at the navy yard, Norfolk, Va., about Feb.
25, the vessels will proceed to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba to rejoin the Atlantic fleet.

More Men for Electrical Force
One wireman and four electrical mechanics received a call for duty in the machinery division today.

Coming Back From Sick Leave
Willis F. Thomas and John J. Cofer, machinists' helpers, Daniel O'Brien and John McKensie, laborers, have reported for work after sick leaves.

Want Secretary to Give Up Ship
A petition for mandamus to compel the secretary of the navy to deliver the cruiser Boston has been filed in the supreme court in the District of Columbia by A. Goldberg, of Vancouver, British Columbia. Goldberg alleges that calls for bids for purchase of the Boston were issued by the navy that bids were opened on December 7 last, and that he was the highest bidder. He submitted a certified check for $20,000 with his bid, and he alleges that he otherwise complied with the terms and conditions imposed by the department. It is alleged that the department will not deliver the Boston to him, but intends to lend the vessel to the state of Oregon. Following the usual course of procedure, the navy department has referred the matter to the department of justice, which will conduct the defense through the United States attorney for the District of Columbia.

Have You Been Invited?
There is a persistent rumor that the oft-postponed strawride and dance, in which the children of the drafting room are interested, is to be held, weather permitting, on Thursday evening next. The objective point of the ride is now announced as Newington town hall. An enjoyable time is anticipated as K. M. Karcher has carte blanche in the matter of arrangements.

Guess Again
Report has it that the Washington will come out of the dry dock on Thursday. The cruiser cannot tie up at the nation pier too soon to suit her crew.

Advanced to First Lieutenant Second Lieutenant F. H. Drees, U.
S. M. C., recently ordered to the naval prison here, has been advanced to the rank of first lieutenant.

The consolidation of the Hoyt and Tarbox Express companies which control the electric express business throughout Maine and a part of New Hampshire was revealed by the filing of the certificate of incorporation at the secretary of state's office at Augusta on Saturday.

The new company is named Hoyt-Tarbox Express company and is capitalized at $100,000. The officers are President, C. H. White of Augusta; treasurer, Everett Stone, Stanley S.
Paton of Augusta is the third member of the board of directors. Joseph Williamson of Augusta is clerk of the corporation.

SUPERIOR COURT

Whether or not little Laura Bright, aged 9 years, shall be taken away from her foster mother, Marion F.
Pierce, was being decided at Exeter
Monday in superior court, before Judge Robert N. Chamberlain of Berlin.

The case is that of Halbert A.
Bright, father of the child, of Malden,
Mass., against Charles C. Ordway,
Mary Ordway of Epping and Marion
F. Pierce, who now resides in Epping.
The case is rather remarkable, and the pathetic side shows to striking effect. The little one was left with Mrs. Pierce when it was 9 months old, and she then lived in Malden, Mass. Mrs. Pierce alleged that the child was given to her, and when it became older the father demanded it. She gave it up, but after being separated for a few days, with a mother's love she told the court that she could not live without it, and again procured possession of the child. The child, which was in court, knows no other mother's love, and wants to remain. Mrs. Pierce on the witness stand after a severe cross examination, broke down and sobbed while the child also shed tears for its foster parent.

The father has been married a second time and now asks the court to give him back the child. There was some trouble in regard to the child's board alleged. The attorneys are County Solicitor George T. Hughes of Dover, of the firm of Rivel & Hughes for the plaintiff, and Eastman and Seammon and Gardner of Exeter for the defendants.

TUG CAPTAIN RESIGNS WHILE ACQUITTAL PENDS

Capt. Francis E. Hammond, commander of the tug Lykens, has resigned his command and gone to his home in Chatham. Capt. Hammond was in command of the Lykens when the tug parted from the barges Trevorton, Corbin and Pine Forest off Cape Cod during a northwesterly gale Jan. 10 while bound to this port with the Corbin.

All three barges were lost and their crews perished.
It is said that the resignation of Capt. Hammond had nothing to do with the disaster; that he left of his own accord, because of the illness of his wife. The U. S. local inspectors of steam vessels at Boston have not yet rendered a decision in the case of the loss of the barges, but the general belief is that Capt. Hammond will be exonerated.

YOU MAY FALL DOWN

If you fall to look up our Pianos before placing your order. We don't claim to be infallible or make rash promises, but we are selling "Pianos of The Reliable Kind." There are plenty of chances to get fooled in the Piano Market. We are not fooling just telling our customers the truth about some of the best Pianos on the market. In this connection we invite your examination of our stock of

Emerson, Packard, and Merrill

That You Can Save Money Here on a Suit or Overcoat
Now.

We face the fact that the selling time is growing short.
Plenty of time yet to wear them, but the time for selling is not so long.

Buyers that look ahead and buy ahead can reap a rich harvest now.

You can save $3.00 to $5.00 on your Suit or Overcoat for next season, if you buy now.

Boys' Suits and Overcoats Greatly Reduced in Price.

The Richmond

SUCTION CLEANER

The Richmond is the simplest and lightest suction cleaner on the market. It comes complete with hose and all attachments, including a special attachment for drying hair, without extra cost. Can be attached to any electric fixture, and it is so simple a child can operate it.
